

READ THIS SCRIPT TO START YOUR DINNER...

When disasters strike and power lines go down, families are left vulnerable, wrenched away from comfort and light. The need for a communal space to share meals is essential in the road to recovery, as winter brings shorter days and colder nights.

This is why every ShelterBox includes LuminAID solar lights that bring light and immediate safety to those who have lost everything. For people like Yolanda Enriquez, whose home was destroyed due to severe flooding in Peru, ShelterBox's solar lights enabled her to cook dinner for her community and shed light upon their hour of darkness. Waterproof, inflatable, and long lasting, these lights are much more than a convenience – they mean safety and security for families around the world.

During this dinner I ask that you join me in dispelling the darkness by making a gift to ensure no family goes without light, warmth, and shelter.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Here are additional facts about ShelterBox

- ShelterBox is a cutting-edge charity that hand-delivers emergency shelter for families devastated by natural disaster and conflict. Their signature ShelterBoxes and ShelterKits contain the tools to transform lives and rebuild communities.
- The need for emergency shelter is urgent. Right now, around 85 million people around the world have been displaced by natural disaster and conflict – more than any other time since World War II. ShelterBox is fueled by an impatience to reach more people, to empower them to transform their lives, to build a world where no family is left without shelter.
- Since its founding in 2000, ShelterBox has provided shelter to over 1.2 million people in 95 countries across the globe.
- ShelterBox focuses on serving vulnerable families and hard to reach communities, they are leading the way in the future of emergency shelter.
- What's inside a ShelterBox? A family-sized tent, cooking supplies, a water filter, a mosquito net, blankets, and a children's activity pack: everything a family needs to survive following a natural disaster or conflict.
- As a leading disaster relief charity, ShelterBox focuses on remote, isolated, and often the hardest hit communities and aim to serve vulnerable populations.
- So far this year, ShelterBox has helped families affected by disasters across 12 different countries, including Syria, Haiti, Cameroon, Peru, and the Philippines, to name a few.
